Behind the fighting lines of an army are the medical and supply corps, as necessary to the soldiers as bullets. Top, is the mobile water purification unit, used during the army's extensive maneuvers in Tennessee. The unit can purify 100 gallons of water per minute. Bottom, soldiers bring in the first "casualty" of the great mock battle.

Call No. 21 Is Issued By State; 15 Off For Army Today

Salem's selective service board today received draft call No. 21, for an approximate total of nine men, effective tentatively June 30, as it sent 15 young men to Cleveland for induction into the U. S. army, representing the 18th call throughout the state.

In the meantime, preparations are under way for sending 17 more men from the Salem area on Friday, June 20, this contingent representing call No. 20. Call No. 19 was for Negro youths.

A total of 1,728 registrants will be inducted between June 30 and July 9 in the 21st call.

This will bring to 42,301 the total number of Oklahans ordered for induction, said Major Carl G. Wahl, Columbus.

Ellis Satterthwaite of E. Third st. was in charge of the group which went by bus to Cleveland this morning.

Others in the delegation were: George M. Derriekson of Columbus. Leo Marshall Bielski, 651 S. Union ave.

John D. Jacobson, 337 S. Lincoln ave. Fred J. Johnson, Columbiana. George L. Mardis, R. D. 1, Moultrie.

Salem Mibs Champ
Goes Down Fighting

Two more marbles in the right place would have tied Frankie Luciano, Salem city marble champion, for first place in his district at the Canton grand finals Saturday.

In six games, Frank won two and lost four but two of them by the barest possible margin, 7-6. If he had been able to pick off that last marble first, perhaps the story would have been different.

However, he gave his best, he was a good sport, and he lost like a gentleman.

Frank, and six other Salem school champions, were guests of the Salem News and The Canton Repository Saturday morning and afternoon at the Canton tournament. They watched the tournament, saw the town, and had a big open air dinner in West park.

In his first game, the Salem champ knocked out three straight marbles in three shots to take an early lead and win. His second game was one of those heart-breaking 7-6 affairs and he went on to lose his third. He lost his fourth and then won one and lost one in two games with Margaret Linker.

Margaret went on to stage such impressive wins that she will be entered in the national finals at Wildwood, N. J., on July 5. She is the first and only girl ever entered there.

So maybe Frank isn't the champ. But he beat the champ one game! The local shooter was hampered by the glassy-smooth clay courts which kept him from sticking in the center. Specializing in strictly hard shooting, Frank always found that his shooter went flying right after the marble he hit and he failed to win a free shot in all the games he played. All the eventual grand finalists made a practiced art of sticking in the center and walloping the marbles out from there.

UNITES ARRANGED FOR AUTO VICTIMS

Final rites will be held at 9 a. m. Tuesday in St. Paul's Catholic church for Herbert F. Becker, 36, and James D. Fisher, Jr., 32, fatally injured early Saturday morning when their car plunged off the highway six miles north of Salem, on Route 45, and overturned. Robert Entrikin, riding with them, was injured.

Becker, son of Mrs. Kathryn V. Becker of 316 E. Third st., was graduated from Salem High school and attended Ohio State university. He had been production clerk at the Mullins plant for the last 15 years and was a member of the Knights of Columbus lodge. He was born Feb. 22, 1903, in Salem.

His mother and a sister, Miss Margaret Becker, survive. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery. Friends may call at the Becker home on E. Third st. tonight.

ARREST NINE
OVER WEEKEND

State Patrol Investigates
Three Mishaps Involving
Seven Cars

Salem state highway patrolmen investigated three accidents and made nine arrests over the weekend. No injuries of a critical nature were reported among the 17 occupants of the seven cars involved in the accidents.

Bernard E. Burns, 24, of Youngstown was fined $50 and costs as the aftermath of a three-car crash on Route 62, one mile north of Salem, at 11:15 p. m. Saturday.

Burns' car, traveling toward Salem, sideswiped a car driven by Myron E. Schroeder, 17, also of Youngstown, and then careened into another car driven by Pete Romanski of Newton Falls.

Schroeder's car overturned as a result of the impact. Virginia Franklin, 17, a passenger in the Schroeder car, suffered a possible broken wrist and body lacerations.

Jean Yoho, 18, of Beaver Falls, Pa., suffered a broken tooth in another three-car crash on Route 14, near East Palestine. Both accidents occurred at the same time and were of the same nature.

The cars involved in the East Palestine crash were driven by Austin Breeding, 19, of New Middleburg; William Herron, 26, of Pittsburgh; and Edward Lader of Pittsburgh. Breeding's car crowded the center line, according to the highway patrol, and struck the other two machines.

Three people were injured when a car driven by Matthew A. Elshoff of Alliance went off the North Georgetown - Westville road, and plunged into the Lake Placidia overflow creek at 1:30 a. m. Sunday. Robert Heldt, 18, of Alliance, suffered a broken nose and cuts on the leg and face; Jack Russell, 16, also of Alliance, body bruises; and Matthew A. Elshoff, the driver, cuts on left leg, forehead, and elbow.

Arrests by the patrol included: Henry Clay, Poland, charged with reckless driving; fined $10 and costs by Mayor Norman Phillips. Kenneth Koons, Star route, Salem, second reckless driving of offense; $25 and costs by Mayor Phillips.

James Harris, 353 Newgarden st., speeding; $10 and costs by Mayor Phillips. Raymond Estes, 22, Washingtonville, driving while intoxicated; $100 and costs by Mayor Phillips. George Bortner, East Palestine, reckless driving; $10 and costs by Mayor Arthur Myers of Columbiana.

Charles E. Pherson, Alliance, reckless driving; $10 and costs by Mayor Phillips. Duward Neal, Akron, reckless driving; $10 and costs by Mayor Phillips. William Ricker, Petersburg, failure to observe a stop sign; $2 and costs by Mayor Myers.

Milbert E. Clark, Baltimore, Md., overweight truck; $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace Earl Spalding, East Palestine.

Advance on Damascus

BOMB AIR FIELDS
AS TROOPS MOVE UP

Action Is Developing On Some of World's Oldest Battlefields

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, June 9.—British imperial Free French forces, with some mandate officials and converts from the Vichy cause swelling their ranks, have captured age-old Tyre and have driven to a point about 40 miles from Damascus and Beirut. It was authoritatively reported today.

Reports from the allied side of the fighting indicated a half-hearted resistance by the defenders of French-mandated Syria and Lebanon.

But a Beirut communiqué from the other side said there was fierce resistance by the defenders who have destroyed several armored cars and shot down two RAF planes. The Beirut communiqué said that the RAF had bombed air fields at Damascus, Aleppo and Levaya. In Cairo, British headquarters announced that the RAF and the royal Australian air force "gave continuous support to our troops."

The advance marked by capture of Tyre (also called Sour) on the Lebanese coast was that of the coastal column pointed toward Beirut. A part of this same force was reported to have entered the village of Merjayoun, just northeast of Tyre.

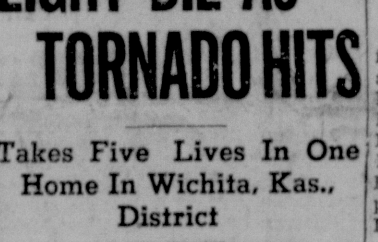

The towns lie just north of the Sea of Galilee where Christ sought disciples among the lowly fishermen. Merjayoun is about 40 miles southwest of Damascus and equidistant south of Beirut. Tyre is midway between Haifa, Palestine, and Beirut.

On Ancient Fields
Threading through some of civilization's oldest battlefields, the Allied forces were said to be closing in relentlessly on the two capitals.

(By Associated Press)
WICHITA, Kas., June 9.—A tornado killed eight persons on farms north of Wichita late last night, five of them at the Guy Scrivner home, scene earlier in the day of joint observance of a 23rd wedding anniversary and the mother's 42nd birthday.

The Dead
Mrs. Guy Scrivner, 42. Betty Scrivner, 16. Margaret Scrivner, 19. Mrs. Ralph Kruger, about 70, mother of Mrs. Scrivner. Janet Lee Paulson, 4, a neighbor child spending the night with the Scrivners.

Miss Mary Penner, 36. Haskell Keyes, 50, of Oklahoma City. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Thierstine, Jr.

Guy Scrivner, husband and father in the family whose one-story frame home was demolished, suffered a broken leg and shock. Dr. A. S. Hawkey who treated him said Scrivner was blown 200 yards but managed to crawl a quarter mile for aid.

Family Asleep
The entire Scrivner family was asleep when the storm struck. Bodies were scattered 100 yards. Two other Scrivner children were saved through absence from the home.

Miss Penner, who died in an El Dorado hospital, was visiting her brother, Ott, near Whitewater. Keyes was killed at the John Schaefer home near Valley Center, about 10 miles northwest of Wichita, where he was visiting.

Dr. A. P. Cloyes, Butler county coroner, said the storm swept an area about a half mile wide and 8 to 10 miles long, rolling fences, trees, silos, barns and telephone wires before it. Evidently, however, it missed all villages in the area.

Bayonet Used On One Man
Who Stands Ground;
Goes to Hospital

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, June 9.—Three thousand U. S. troops, bayonets drawn, and carrying machine guns, took over the strike-bound North American aviation plant today under presidential proclamation after two riots in which tear gas bombs were hurled between police and a CIO picket line, 1,000-strong.

Six persons were taken to the Venice hospital after fights between the pickets and workers who tried to enter the plant. Strikers generally yielded as troops of the 15th infantry advanced on the big plane factory in long skirmish lines, but one who stood his ground was bayoneted and taken to a hospital.

Fighting Breaks Out
The soldiers moved in a short time after fighting broke out and tear gas bombs were hurled as some of the 12,000 men tried to enter the plant in response to a government request to resume production of war planes at the plant.

A convoy of 50 trucks, loaded with army troops, moved down Redondo boulevard in front of the plant. The troops were greeted with cheers by the lines of workers across the road from the plant main entrance, who had been prevented from entering the struck plant by disorders.

Army contract of the huge plant, which has a backlog of $200,000,000 in plane orders, came five days after the workers struck, demanding a minimum wage of 75 cents an hour and an increase of ten cents an hour for all workers now paid 75 cents an hour.

Today's action followed an ultimatum by the President that the army would take over the plant unless the men returned to work this morning. The strikers, however, remained firm in their demands, despite the President's statement and the requests of their own CIO national leaders for them to resume work.

Protect Workmen
In taking over the plant, Lieut. Col. Charles S. Bradshaw, in charge of the western district office of the army air corps, issued a statement, saying: "My instructions from Washington are to take immediately all steps necessary to protect workmen desiring to enter the plant, those leaving the plant and in their homes, and to take such other additional measures as may be needed in the interests of national defense."

"Effective immediately, the plant will be opened for work under government control. Employees desiring to return to their jobs will be given all necessary protection to insure free and safe entrance to and exit from the factory."

"The proper civil authorities are giving full cooperation to the extent of their ability in the enforcement of local, state and federal laws and in any additional steps deemed essential and authorized by the national emergency powers of the President."

PLANT VITAL TO U.S. DEFENSE

FDR Stresses Production
Necessity In Order to Soldiers

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 9.—Asserting that continuous production in the North American Aviation plant at Inglewood, Calif., was "essential to national defense," President Roosevelt today ordered the army to take over the strike-bound plant and operate it.

Troops moved in soon after his order was issued. The President's executive order was issued a few minutes after the plant had opened at 7 a. m. Pacific Coast time. The opening was accompanied by fighting between pickets and local police authorities.

U. S. Property Involved
In a statement accompanying the order, Mr. Roosevelt said: "Continuous production in the Los Angeles plant of North American Aviation, Inc., is essential to national defense. It is engaged in the production of airplanes vital to our defense and much of the property in the plant is owned, directly or indirectly, by the United States. Production in this plant has ceased because of a labor dispute."

"Conciliation was resorted to and efforts at conciliation failed. The dispute was then certified by the secretary of labor to the national defense mediation board."

"The course of mediation has now been interrupted in violation of an agreement entered into by the bargaining representatives of the workers to continue production during the course of the mediation. Full stoppage of production has resulted."

Must Be Reopened
"Because of this situation, as President and commander in chief of the armed forces of the United States, I have determined that this plant must be reopened at once. I have therefore directed that the secretary of war shall immediately take charge of the plant and remain in charge and operate the plant until normal production shall be resumed."

"The army has been directed to afford protection to all workers entering or leaving the plant, and in their own homes."

SORE POINTS OF THE STRIKE ISSUE

The right to strike has been established by usage and law. It is not strikes, as such, that are inflaming public opinion in the United States. It is strikes that are called at the expense of defense production without first exhausting all available means of mediation.

The general public, sympathetic with labor, is concerned over signs that organized labor in some instances seems to have adopted the classic policy once attributed to a certain type of management—"Let the public be damned."

There are widespread misgivings about the good faith of some of the strikes already called and some others that are threatened. The general public cannot be certain in the light of what is known that the purpose of some strikes may not be to hinder defense production, under the pretense of seeking higher wage rates and other advantages.

The general public is made uneasy by evidence that the minority pressure which organized labor can exert and is exerting may be used in a way that will give organized labor itself a black eye and turn loose the volatile forces of reaction.

Evidence of undue influence exerted in some unions by leaders and cliques who are suspected of hostility to American interests is deeply disturbing. The general public does not like to think that such persons have been permitted to play a sly game of footie with a few government officials, but never has been furnished with conclusive evidence to the contrary.

It is the prevailing belief that the sacrifice necessitated by preparedness is going to be distributed equitably by the government; that excess profits will be absorbed by taxation; that income taxes will be used to soak corporations and individuals who can stand the shock; that government planning will forestall inflation. The general public does not believe this is a proper occasion for any organized minority to jeopardize its long-term interests by playing dog-in-the-manger.

It is genuinely concerned, moreover, with the problem of morale being created in the ranks of the nation's growing army by the fact that soldiers receiving as little as $21 a month are being deprived of the weapons they must have by workmen unwilling to stay at work while seeking pay increases and privileges and fighting out jurisdictional battles.

The general public is concerned, moreover, with the well established fact that work stoppages often are caused not by the will of the majority, but by the arbitrary decisions of a few, who are called "hot-heads" for want of a title that comes closer to a description of their real motives.

America will solve the problem of work stoppages that interfere with national defense. That is the first responsibility of government in the emergency President Roosevelt has proclaimed. It is tragic, nevertheless, that there should be a problem to solve. The general public chooses to believe that it was not unavoidable but was permitted to come about through error and carelessness; that the desire of the overwhelming majority of wage earners is not reflected in the policy of hamstringing defense production to win a narrow advantage.

FOR PARTING IS SUCH SWEET SORROW

In a country that has devoted so much thought and money to education, the end of the school year is far from being an isolated incident, of interest only to students and instructors. It is, as well, an occasion for reminiscence celebrated to varying extent by all who have school memories. From the professional "old grad" who returns to the scene of great experiences to the indifferent product of education who could take learning or leave it and mostly left it come pang of fond recollection.

The pangs for the most part are related closely to the sorrow of parting. For in the educational system as constituted has been created perhaps the saddest of all human circumstances—the necessity of terminating abruptly a pleasant experience in order to get on with the work at hand. The first grader must leave the aura of his first beloved teacher; the graduate must leave the halls and campus of his high school and college. Their reluctance differs only in degree, not in kind.

All of them become aware, if they have perception, that they have been caught in that moving tide of affairs from which there is no escape; that they lack the power to make time stand still but must move on whether they like it or not. At the moment they may try to resist with all the blind fury of futility, but ultimately, like all who have gone before, they find within themselves the terms of reconciliation. And if they are lucky and cherish their memories, they too will be able to look back one day to their school days and say, as millions have said before them, "They were the happiest days of my life. They are gone, but they will not be forgotten."

PRESCRIPTION FOR SHORT-SIGHTEDNESS

Reading from left to right in the record of the war for control of the seas, an American being tested for comprehension of what the war's about finds:

That the British, better equipped to give a good account of themselves on the oceans than any other nation, are under siege at Gibraltar and Suez, with the right to use the Mediterranean at stake.

That in the north Atlantic the British are losing ships at a rate compelling them to admit the possibility of being beaten by Germany's submarine and air blockade; that in the south Atlantic German raiders also are operating effectively; that in the south Atlantic German planes are carrying token shipments of goods to South America.

That the Japanese, charged with outfitting and fueling German raiders in Japan's sphere of influence, are drawing ever closer to Singapore, which they would control at the expense of all other nations using that strategic strait.

That these various moves to bring ocean highways under control of powers that have shown hostility to American interests are not being carried forward by Germany alone, but by a combination of nations, which already includes Italy and Japan and soon may include Nazified France.

In short, that it is not the threat of invasion by one country, Germany, which is the motive for looking to America's security, but the threat of encirclement by a combination of hostile powers sympathetic with Germany's war aims. Great Britain has not been invaded—may not be invaded—but no one can doubt that its position is serious because of a combined effort to undermine its security by the strategy of encirclement.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, June 10.

THIS DAY'S final issues may depend entirely on the personal decision to do the right thing, adhere to the ideal purpose, when either depression, sense of limitation, mental confusion or opposition tend in the direction to give up. If this inclination be suppressed with valiance, courage and good cheer, it is probable that influential or friendly interests are at hand ready with surprising cooperation. This may have results of a public nature or advance certain ambitions to figure in the public eye, for social benefits or community benefits.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of much unexpected and surprising happiness by adhering to high purpose, good will and cherished ideals for advancing the welfare and happiness of others as well as themselves. Discouragement and depression anent such worthy goals would bring frustration and misery whereas steadfast purpose would find rich cooperation, from those in high places or from public acclaim. Some changes may be needed in plans.

A child born on this day although genial, kind and public-spirited may cling tenaciously to its own ideas and ideals although such may be erratic, impractical or revolutionary and cause them some distress.

POISON IVY REMEDIES DISCUSSED

Same Treatment Will Not Fit All Cases

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
We are in the beginning of the poison ivy season and with so many contradictory pieces of advice going around, it is valuable to study a conservative review of methods of prevention and treatment. I find one which emanates from the Peter Bent Brigham hospital in Boston.

Poison ivy dermatitis has a long history in the United States. There is a clear-cut account of such poisoning suffered by the members of a Spanish expedition in New Mexico, under Governor Valverde, in 1719. In 1748 Peter Kalm, as a result of his travels in New Mexico gave a detailed description of this poisoning.

Easily Recognized

While poison ivy dermatitis is usually easily recognized on account of the sudden appearance on exposed areas of the skin of clear-cut, hard blisters which are painful rather than itchy, the diagnosis should not be made final until a history is obtained because similar eruptions can be caused by the following: iodine, furs, dyes, cosmetics, tar, sulfur, chrysanthemum, primrose, sunflower, celery, tobacco, carbolic acid, orange peel (in sensitive people, and formalin).

Protection

Those who may be compelled to undergo exposure to the plant, such as horticulturists and gardeners, can obtain protection by using an oxidizing agent on the skin, such as potassium permanganate solution, 0.1 per cent, or a 10 per cent sodium perborate ointment in a base of vanishing cream. After the application of the latter, a white deposit is left on the skin.

Too Big for the Army

Victor Karpus has the distinction of being first man turned down by the army in Chicago because he is too tall. The six-foot eight-inch gas station attendant, who had the patriotic draft number of 1776, is shown with a young acquaintance.

BRICKER ON WATER

Editor, The News:
Salem's present water crisis is about the best thing that ever happened in Salem, whereby it started a few of the right people to take an interest in city affairs when it began to affect their interests.

I agree with Mr. Lozier that a new well may be of temporary aid. Fortunately, there need not have been the factory shutdown for lack of water.

City officials have never convinced me that the city field well (on Smith farm) should be cut off. I challenge city officials to lay their cards on the table, face up, as to their motives relative to that field.

Uncalled for, extra, and uneven pressure plays a prominent part in a lot of the many breaks in three-quarter inch lines leading to private homes, whereby thousands of gallons of water are wasted, a dead loss to the city.

Drilling new wells in a water field that already has several wells only momentarily increases the water volume. You only get what is there in the end. That was my (now proven) contention after the new well was drilled at Whinnery field.

Inasmuch as "city politicians" try to ignore me, I wish to point out to the men representing our factories that for some time I have had in mind ideas to help permanently solve the Salem water problem. All would naturally involve considerable money, but money well invested is not thrown away. If they are interested, I will be glad to help them check up on what I have in mind.

Sure, I am only a working man. But, one of ordinary intelligence who has made about as thorough a study of Salem problems during the last 15 years as possibly has any other Salem citizen.

GEORGE BRICKER.

Answer: Any effective treatment for severe acne is likely to cause pits.

B. T. N.: "Are there any serious effects following spinal injections given by surgeons for operations? My daughter had this kind of anesthetic for an appendicitis operation, and since then we have been told that it would cause insanity, epileptic fits or some other serious thing."

"THE GORGON'S MASK"

by Van Wyck Mason

SYNOPSIS

As war clouds thicken over Tientsin and other scenes of international friction in China, Howard Nevins, ostensibly an American big game hunter, reaches Honolulu. Within the hour of his arrival, he receives a mysterious phone warning, a woman's voice urging that he return to the States at once. Annoyed but undaunted, Nevins attends a dinner tendered by wealthy Abner Polk. Prominent among the guests is Baron von Rentner, a reputed German industrialist. Alluring Phedre Renore as hostess is the subject of considerable sotto voce discussion. Polk assured Hideo Kanamura, prosperous Japanese merchant, that there will be no war; but others present are jittery and Naval Lieut. Wilson Clark explodes, almost assaulting Kanamura. Bruce Kilgour, major of British Intelligence, joins the party, which continues gayly on the floor until the corpse of a beautiful unknown girl comes in on the side. There is little evidence of violence on the nude body.

CHAPTER FIVE

"This way, please, Doctor." Abner Polk beckoned vigorously to a white-clad man who was running down the float stair.

Dr. Parsons, brisk, quiet-spoken with shrewd brown eyes behind a pair of gold-rimmed spectacles, caught up the slender wrist, and tested the pulse. Immediately he shook his head.

"Hum—afraid there's nothing can be done. She's quite dead."

"Drowned?" It was Kanamura who spoke—almost hopefully, it seemed.

Dr. Parsons considered a moment. "Not if she was floating when you found her."

"Then how do you suppose she got killed?" the Lloyd girl wanted to know.

"Ja," Von Rentner gruffly echoed the query. "How?"

"Say, I wonder—" Catherine Lloyd shot a startled glance at the silent and motionless company. "Remember that scream we heard?"

"Nonsense!" cried the steel magnate. "Just a coincidence."

"It would seem that somebody," Phedre Renore pointed out somberly, "was anxious that no one should find out who she was. Do you get? There is a ring mark on her finger, but no ring."

A strained silence fell. As a man who emerges from a daze, Abner Polk became once more his vigorous, authoritative self. "I suggest," directed the host, "that we go up to the house. Give that sheet to Dr. Parsons, Manuel."

"But," the doctor demanded. And he resumed his conversation with Howard Nevins. "Do you recall just how she was floating when you first noticed her?"

"Yes. She was on her back," Nevins was smoothing the tangled yellow hair before pulling the sheet up over the face. The eyelashes looked very long and dark against the white cheeks.

"Watch out," Parsons warned, "or you'll get your cuff stained. See? That scratch is still bleeding a little."

"Thanks," Nevins flashed a quick

"Do you recall just how she was floating when you first noticed her?" the doctor asked the kneeling Nevins.

smile, then glanced ruefully at his shirt. "How very clumsy of me!"

While excited voices floated down from the house, now glowing like a stirred heap of jewels, Dr. Parsons stepped closer, blinking nervously behind his glasses.

"Say, Mr. Nevins," he said in a hoarse undertone, "I didn't want to say anything before the ladies, but there's something queer about this girl's death."

Through the half-dark, the tall sportsman tried to see his vis-a-vis more clearly as he remarked, "Queer?"

"Yes, queer."

"Why?"

"Because—the doctor now became obviously agitated—"I happen to know that there has been no boat off this part of the shore."

"Why so sure, Dr. Parsons?" Nevins inquired curiously.

The doctor pointed to a small bungalow standing on a commanding promontory.

"That's my place up yonder. Since dinner time—six-thirty with us—I've been sitting out on the lanai and looking towards the sea."

"And you saw no boat of any description?"

Dr. Parsons shook his spectacled head. "None. Besides I know how the current runs about here and, considering that rigor mortis hadn't even begun to set in, I certainly am wondering how this body came to this place."

The dark-faced sportsman nodded gravely.

"It is a bit of a fencer, isn't it?" And the more he thought about that odd look on the face of Abner Polk's Phedre, the more he wondered.

"When will the autopsy be conducted?" he demanded abruptly.

"Tonight, I expect," replied Dr. Parsons moodily. "If she's been

Today's Pattern

SIMPLE, GRACEFUL YOKED STYLE Pattern 4605

It's smart to be simple in your summer clothes—you feel and look cooler that way! But simplicity can be charming and becoming, too, as this Anne Adams frock, Pattern 4605, so nicely illustrates. The plainly shaped neckline has a tucked-and-button trim, and rounded yokes at either side complete the gay effect. Darts just above the waistline help to hold-in the soft, bloused bodice lines. The skirt is in just two sections and has an easy flare. Add smart pockets, if you like, and tie a soft sash at the front. The sleeves may repeat the neckline trim with tiny tucks and bright buttons—or you may prefer air-cooled cap sleeves. This useful frock is easy to cut, stitch and finish with the Sewing Instructor's aid.

Pattern 4605 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size

WHEELING PLANT RAZED BY FLAMES

WHEELING, W. Va., June 9.—Officials today investigated the possibility of sabotage in a fire which destroyed the plant of the Wheeling Machine Products company, holding $1,000,000 in orders, mostly for the government.

The block-long building was wrecked by flames breaking out yesterday, 20 minutes after a watchman reported "everything in order." Fire Inspector Homer Oats estimated the damage at about $200,000.

Ernest W. Krause, company president and a mechanic himself, said he would don overalls to help salvage equipment valued at $309,000. He termed the blaze "peculiar." Two state troopers reported the fire apparently started in two sections of the plant at the same time.

Krause declared a "heinous crime has been committed against us" in delays to defense production. The plant made detonators for practice bombs and fittings for battleships, torpedo boats and army cantonments. It normally produces oil field equipment and employs 300 workers.

COLOMBIANA HIGH ALUMNI TO RALLY

Response to the more than 1,200 invitations sent out by the secretary, Miss Helen Douglas, and Registrar Mrs. Stanley Vaughn indicate that the event will attract about 300 graduates and friends.

The program for the banquet will include short talks, musical selections, group singing and miscellaneous features. Hiram McGrath will be toastmaster and Miss Helen Basler is program chairman. Craig Quigley is chairman of the reception committee.

Balots for the election of new officers will be given members before the banquet. It will also be determined whether a reunion shall be held every year or every five years, as is now the custom. An informal dance will be held in the school gym following the banquet, with music furnished by Freddie Boies and his orchestra.

WANTED Transportation to California. Will pay share of expenses. Leaving June 9 or 10. Phone 5079.

Not Too Young for Pain

This solemn little lady is Rita Bates, 2-year-old daughter of a warehouseman in London. She is one of the thousands of small children who have become the innocent victims of a war they do not understand. Made ill by long periods in the dank underground subway shelters where she was kept during air raids, she is a patient at Queen's for Children Hospital.

Probe Soldier Death

COLUMBUS, June 9.—The death of Steve Bizan, 26-year-old selectee round unconscious on a downtown street, touched off an investigation by Fort Hayes officers here. Post physicians said he had received a head injury, possibly in a fight. The body was ordered sent to Cleveland.

Lecturer Succumbs

Hints On Applying Wood Siding

According to the management of the Damascus Lumber Co., at Damascus, this is the right way to install a corner board. Here it is shown resting directly on the sheathing itself, being separated from it by building paper only. The ends of the siding should butt directly against the corner board and they should be painted. Applying corner boards in this manner will prevent the formation of little water storage pockets at the joint.

This is the wrong way to install a corner board. The picture shows it applied directly to the siding rather than being nailed to the sheathing. This is poor practice, as it allows water to seep into the pocket made by the moulded top of the siding running under the corner board.

This is a mitered corner. Such corners must fit closely and stay in place if they are to look well. Unless well joined, mitered corners will eventually admit water and cause trouble. Tight, careful miter, well cut for a perfect fit and jointed with paint, is an essential requirement of a good siding job.

WHEEL BALANCING MAKES STEERING

New High Speeds Compel Perfection In Front End Assembly

We used to expect a car, after it had gone a few thousand miles, to shimmy on rough roads, this condition getting worse as time went on until even on smooth roads it was next to impossible to avoid that side play of the wheels.

Then all that was necessary was to put in new front end bushings, and everything was ship-shape again.

Today, with high speeds, even a little shimmying is actually dangerous. If the steering wheel shakes even a trifle in your hands at any speed you'd better hustle to Grates Garage on South Ellsworth and let him check those wheels for balance. For now, nearly always it's wheels out of balance that cause the shimmy.

It's an inexpensive trouble to have remedied, just a matter of balancing the wheel with small weights. But it takes delicate, expensive equipment to do it. E. L. Grate has the latest dynamic, electric eye machine that shows exactly where the wheel is out of balance while spinning at the equivalent of speed up to 100 miles per hour.

FLOWERS VALUED AS SPECIAL GIFTS

Phone Call to Endres and Gross Brings Instant Service

Flowers are highly desirable as gifts on virtually any occasion, but as a means of conveying true sentiment, are really matchless for anniversaries and other similar occasions.

Birthdays, wedding anniversaries and other similar memorable occasions deserve sentiment in its full value. True, there are utilitarian gifts highly welcome, gifts which, by their very nature, are designed for use in one way or another.

But the receipt of flowers in all their freshness, their beauty, their glory, seems to stir a more deep seated response, turns thoughts to the sender in a way unequalled.

It is easy to find the proper flower gift for the occasion whatever it may be. You may rely on the experience and the judgment of Endres & Gross, florists who have specialized in this type of service for many years.

A telephone call is all that's necessary. Tell them what you want and the job will be performed to your satisfaction.

SCIENTISTS PLAN TO HUNT FOSSILS

BERKELEY, Cal. — With the United States exercising a protectorate over Greenland, two American scientists plan to conduct a fossil hunting expedition there this summer. The search assertedly will be one of the most important of its kind in recent years.

Dr. Ralph W. Chaney, professor of paleontology at the University of California and Dr. Erling Dorf, paleobotanist of Princeton, the two scientists, projected the expedition some time ago.

They expect to leave in June for Disco Island, off the west coast of Greenland, and then push on to the mainland later.

Dr. Chaney specifically hopes to obtain fossils of plants common in Greenland about 125,000,000 years ago. Descendants of these "angiosperms" dominate the modern plant world, it is said.

Fluid Drive for Merchant Marine Ship Has Same Principle as Chrysler's

The monster casting at the right is part of a Fluid Drive unit to be used on a 9,000 ton cargo vessel now under construction. Built by the American Blower Corporation, the casting is nine and one-half feet in diameter and the unit of which it is part will weigh 10,000 pounds. More than 900 gallons of oil will be required to fill it at a cost of more than $850. The Fluid Drive on the Chrysler Highlander shown in the picture is only 14 inches in diameter; weighs only 56 1/2 pounds and when filled holds only nine quarts of oil, but the principle is exactly the same. In both cases, efficiency in power transmission is the dominant factor.

VARIOUS FACTORS ARE CONSIDERED

Source Seen Important: All Health Measures Are Followed

Milk is the only food specifically prepared by nature for the young of mammals. Nearly everyone will immediately agree that a substance specifically prepared by nature for no other purpose than for food is most likely to contain the food elements needed to sustain life and justly deserves the title recently conferred upon it, "the most nearly perfect food."

It is by no means sure that we know all of the attributes which the perfect food should have, but we can at least discuss some of them.

Source of Energy

It will be obvious that one of the most important attributes which a food should possess is that it be a good source of energy, since every living thing needs a fresh supply of energy every day. Milk is such a food and, furthermore, is a cheap form of energy. The equivalent energy value in the form of certain other widely used foods is more expensive.

Milk is also a good muscle builder. It is rich in protein, which is required for muscle building. A child cannot grow and form strong muscles without protein. A full-grown adult cannot keep in health without it. As to the quantity of protein available in milk, a quart of milk yields more than an ounce of pure protein of the highest quality; that is, more than one-third of the total daily protein requirement of an adult.

Again, milk is a good tooth and bone builder, for it contains plenty of lime. Children particularly need lime, and the lime should be in a form which is easily utilized by the body. This is above all true of the lime in milk. One cup of milk contains as much lime as 3 1/2 cups of carrots, 7 eggs, or 42 slices of bread.

Source Is Important

Many of us realize the importance of milk to our every day life but many do not investigate the source of supply. The fact so many regulations governing the source of milk are a necessary part of our federal, state and local laws should be reason enough that people give this matter more than passing attention.

Not only the source of supply is regulated but also those that process and deliver the milk and other dairy supplies to your home. All measures are necessary to safeguard your health.

Virgil Wilson, owner of the Old Reliable dairy, is as particular regarding his supply of raw milk as it is possible to be. The cows that make up the herds must be far above the standards the laws require. The personal attention he gives the pasteurizing at his plant, even though he knows the supply is as near perfect as nature can produce milk, is reason enough to consider the Old Reliable dairy for your supply.

Milk from different type cows produce different flavored milk and the feeding of cows make a great difference. All these things are given great attention by Mr. Wilson for, as he puts it, "I intend to supply a better grade milk than can be had elsewhere."

Dicky French, Kae Earley, Elden Fanor, Edna Mae Hoff, Willard and Lewis Woods are ill with measles.

Pupils who received "A's" in the various subjects in their final examinations at Beloit school have been announced by Supt. Louis Williams.

Eight students were neither absent nor tardy during the last school term. They are: High school, Anna Jean Barnett and Virginia Israel; seventh grade, Ann Eschler; fourth grade, Sue Silla Heston; third grade, Marilyn Taylor; first and second grades, Janet Eckenrith, Leslie Taylor and Dolores Weizenecker.

Jimmy and Paul Charles Williams and Miss Betty Tatsch are visiting with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Williams, at Canfield.

William Stackhouse is visiting friends in Louisville, Ky.

PORT WORTH, Tex. — Alvin Phillips, an ardent, 18-year-old swain, insisted upon seeing his true love. He "borrowed" license plates from his brother's car and attached them to his own. Then he went to see his girl. Now he faces charges of operating a car with fictitious license plates and operating an unregistered vehicle.

How to become A SKILLED DRIVER

OPERATING THE CLUTCH

Learning to operate the clutch without jerking or jumping the car is not easy. But remember, only skilled drivers are smooth drivers. They understand the clutch and use it correctly.

Try this procedure in your driveway or on an untraveled street: Drive the car at crawl speed. In low gear and with the engine turning over slowly, you can control the speed of the moving car with your left foot on the clutch pedal. Find the spot in clutch movement where the car crawls at one mile an hour. Clutch movement at this stage will be very slight. The important thing is learning to locate the spot where the clutch goes out. This point controls movement of the car. Practice the maneuver described above. It will help you to master the clutch.

Pole Team Trims Zelenople, 13-10, To Continue Undelected

RIDERS ROMP IN 3RD CONSECUTIVE VICTORY OF YEAR

Pidgeon Drives Through Seven To Lead Scoring

Never relinquishing their early lead, the Salem Polo team yesterday walloped Zelenople, 13-10, in a game at Coy field. The previously undefeated Pennsylvanians had scored a win over Alliance, defending league champion, in their only game of the season.

Hard hitting Jim Pidgeon smashed through seven goals to set the pace in the victory that gives the Salem riders a perfect record for the year with three wins in three games.

The Salem riders gained their lead by virtue of long, straight drives while the Zelenople team failed to make the most of their opportunities.

First Score In Second

Ray Moff opened the Salem scoring with a short blow from scrimmage in the second chukker after a scoreless first frame in which Pidgeon missed two attempts at free 40 yd shots and Votaw missed one. All three shots were granted by Referee Jack Hendricks after crossing fowls by the hard riding Zelenople team.

Pidgeon scored the second tally of the game with a long, hard drive that glanced off the goal post to go through for a score. Pidgeon repeated at the other end of the field after good team play set the ball up. Votaw drove a long straight shot from over the middle of the field but it went wide. Pidgeon scored a minute later with a nice back shot from the 30 yd. sideboard that angled through the goal.

Unscored On at Half

In the third chukker Moff scored from close-in, and Votaw picked up a checked foul shot by Pidgeon to make the score 6-0 at half time.

In the fourth the visitors staged a brilliant rally, smashing through four goals in less than 2 1/2 minutes as the period opened. Two of the tallies were by Harlan Wilson, one by Tom Wilson and one by Carroll. Votaw then took the ball away from hard riding Harlan Wilson and drove it over half the length of the field to score. Harlan Wilson scored again after several previous attempts were blocked by Will Smith. At the end of the fourth chukker the score was Salem 7, Zelenople 5.

Four Goals by Pidgeon

The fifth chukker saw Pidgeon drive through four shots, two of them within a half-minute, and Carroll score the most beautiful angle shot seen here this season. He drove a ball through the uprights with a back shot from the sideboards about one yard out from the goal line. A Salem score by Moff and three other scores by Zelenople, one of them a pony goal, brought the total to 10-8 as the final frame opened.

In the last chukker Sheen scored the only Salem tally while Carroll drove a short one through to score as the game closed.

Craig Wood Is New United States Open Golf Champ

Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., receives the trophy emblematic of the United States Open Golf championship from Harold W. Pierce (right), president of the United States Golf association, at Fort Worth, Texas. Wood, playing in a polo belt to protect a torn back muscle, shot a great final 70 over the grueling Colonial club course to win three strokes in front of Denny Shute. It was Wood's second major victory of the year. He won the Augusta Masters in April.

Plecentia Downs Farrell Nine, 3-0

Turning in a one-hit performance which left no doubt as to his mastery of the situation all the way, Icher Schopfer led the Plecentia baseball club to a 3-0 victory over the St. Anthony club at the lake field.

J. Kozarich, on the hilltop for the visitors, did a pretty good job of hurling himself, limiting the batters to six safe bingles, but the even half-dozen were sufficient to yield three runs, one in the second and two more in the fourth.

One of the Lakers' six hits was a four-base clout by First Baseman T. Schwartzhoff.

The Plecentia club will play the Akron Sohio's, last year's Class A Champs in Akron, next Sunday at the Lake park.

'Blue Heaven' Wins Indianapolis Hop

"Blue Heaven," flying to the loft of C. W. Cozad, was an easy winner in the 300-mile pigeon race flown yesterday from Indianapolis.

Ed. Sargeant's "Bing" was second and Jack Tilley's "Sister" third in the flight.

Liberated at 7 a. m., the birds were clocked at 12:40 for the excellent time of 1503.51 yards per minute, nearly 51 miles an hour. The 83 birds from 12 participating lofts were added by a west wind in turning in their last times.

The next race is from St. Louis, Mo., the 525-mile station. Birds will be shipped on a 6:03 train Thursday for liberation Saturday morning.

BARTELL PACES GIANTS TO DOUBLE WIN OVER ST. LOUIS

Cards Slip to Second Spot Despite Brooklyn's Loss to Reds

(By Associated Press)
Remember Dick Bartell, the chirruping little shortstop who qualified as the fall guy of the last world series by holding the ball while Buck McCormick of the Cincinnati Reds went charging home with the tying run in the deciding game?

Well, the Detroit Tigers turned him loose not long ago, and he barely caught on as a free agent with his old club, the New York Giants.

Gets His Chance

Since then he has been riding the Giants' yelling his head off and wondering if Bill Jurgens, the regular shortstop, ever would need rest. It was only two days ago that Dick finally slipped into the line-up as a pinch-hitter, and they let him start yesterday against the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals.

He practically ruined the Cards single-handed. He singled two runs home in the ninth inning of the first contest as the Giants scored five times to tie the score, and then in the tenth he pounded a home run with one on to win the encounter, 7 to 5. He clouted a double and a single in the nightcap, which the Giants also won, 12 to 7, and now it's Jurgens' turn to wonder when he'll get off the bench.

The double defeat dropped the Cards into second place in the National league race despite the fact Brooklyn is losing a single tilt to Cincinnati, 3 to 2.

Pirates, Phils Split

The Pittsburgh Pirates hammered the Phillies, 12 to 2, and then were set down by the Philies' unpronounceable Johnny Podgajny 5 to 2, Chicago thumped the Boston Braves, 5 to 1, and then got slaughtered, 13 to 1.

In the American league, the Boston Red Sox bounced the Chicago White Sox twice, 5 to 3 and 3 to 0, and climbed into second place behind the Cleveland's flying Indians.

Cleveland set the Philadelphia Athletics back twice, 7 to 4 and 8 to 6, and took a little firmer grip on first place.

The Yankees subdued the St. Louis Browns 9 to 3 in their first game and 8 to 3 in the second. Washington scuttled Detroit, 9 to 3.

BLUE SOX DEFEAT GIRARD TEAM, 8-6

The Salem Blue Sox hammered out an 8 to 6 victory over Girard Sunday afternoon at Girard.

Although out-hit, the Salem club pounded out some timely extra base clouts which helped clinch the victory. Hrvatin collected a homer, Nocera a triple and Catlos a double.

FRENCH, BRITISH MOVE INTO SYRIA

Capture Age-Old Tyre and Advance On Damascus And Beirut

Beirut of coastal Lebanon and Damascus of inland Syria.

The progress of a force moving directly toward Damascus through the forbidding hills of Jebel Ezi Druz was uncertain, since Vichy last reported French defenders had engaged it in their first encounter south of Soueida, 60 miles south of Damascus.

Little was known also of a third spearhead said to have been thrust up the valley of the Euphrates from neighboring Iraq and pointed toward Deir-Ez-Zor, important outpost nestled in the eastern Syrian desert about 250 miles northeast of Damascus.

The Allies indicated there was no whole-hearted resistance to their forces—self-proclaimed as liberators for the Syrians and Lebanese and their defenders against the forces of Hitler.

He died here Wednesday at the age of 82 after almost 23 years of exile following his flight from Germany in the last days of the World war.

As early as 1901 he had determined that his burial should be modest and unobtrusive and, except for the participation of army representatives, should be limited to the immediate family.

"I desire," he specified, "to rest among my trees and flowers of hush (house) Doorn."

CHICAGO GRAIN
Wheat prices advanced about two cents a bushel in early trading today as a result of buying stimulated by heavy, unwanted rains over much of the hard winter wheat belt and reports of spread of black rust. Corn declined, due in part to modification of the government's selling policy. Opening ¾ to 2 ½ higher, July 1.02½-1.03, September 1.03¾-1.04, wheat later fluctuated nervously. Corn started ¼ higher to ¼ lower, July 74½, September 76½.
